The situation in Hanumangarh district appears to be tense once again. In light of the farmers' protest against the Dune Ethanol Private Limited factory, the administration has shut down internet services as a precautionary measure. Security has been tightened in the Sangaria area ahead of the proposed Kisan Mahapanchayat against the ethanol factory on January 7th, and police have erected barricades and begun checking vehicles.

Anticipating the possibility of untoward incidents, the administration has decided to temporarily suspend mobile internet services in Sangaria tehsil and within a 10-kilometer radius for 30 hours, starting at 6 p.m. on Tuesday. This ban will be in effect from 6 p.m. on January 6th until 11:59 p.m. on January 7th.

Administration issued orders

The Additional Divisional Commissioner, Bikaner, issued the internet shutdown order on a proposal from the Hanumangarh District Collector. The order stated that due to the upcoming Kisan Mahapanchayat, potential crowds, gatherings, and other activities, there

Essential services will remain operational

The order clarifies that essential services will not be affected during this ban. Voice calls, landline services, SMS, mobile calling, and broadband internet services in hospitals, banks, and industrial units will remain operational. Only mobile internet data services have been suspended.

Police alert, barricading at various places

this Mahapanchayat. The organization's leaders are continuously conducting public outreach in the surrounding villages and hamlets, urging farmers to attend in large numbers.

The Samyukta Kisan Morcha (SKM) says that the proposed ethanol factory will adversely affect the region's farmers and the environment. Farmers are protesting unitedly against this. A strategy has been developed to convey their demands to the government and administration through a Mahapanchayat.

Appeal to farmers to reach in large numbers

Officials of the United Kisan Morcha have appealed to farmers from Rathikheda, Tibbi, and all surrounding villages to join the Mahapanchayat. Leaders say this movement is linked to the farmers' future and requires maximum participation.

There has already been opposition

It's worth noting that protests have occurred in the area regarding the ethanol factory before. The administration has had to deploy additional security measures to manage the situation several times. Based on this experience, strict measures are being taken this time.

Appeal to the administration

The administration has appealed to the public to maintain peace and refrain from spreading rumors. Officials say the situation is being closely monitored and strict action will be taken against any activity that disrupts law and order.

Currently, the entire area's administration and police are focused on the Kisan Mahapanchayat, scheduled for January 7. Amid the internet shutdown and security measures, it will be crucial to see whether the Mahapanchayat passes off peacefully.

Former Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot has launched a scathing attack on the central government over the alleged atrocities against Hindu minorities in Bangladesh. He called the incident a diplomatic failure on the part of the Indian government, demanding immediate and effective intervention from Prime Minister Narendra Modi. Gehlot said that merely expressing formal concern will not suffice, but concrete steps must be taken to ensure the safety of minorities in the neighboring country.

In a series of posts on the social media platform "X," former CM Gehlot wrote that the news coming from Bangladesh is extremely disturbing. He claimed that five Hindus have been murdered in the past 19 days and incidents of atrocities against women are occurring, which are a blot on humanity. Gehlot said that India, as a responsible democratic country, cannot shirk its moral and diplomatic responsibility to protect the lives and dignity of minorities in neighboring countries.
