Farmers protest for a year and a half

Villagers and farmers allege that the operation of the factory will increase the pollution level, contaminate the groundwater and pose serious health hazards. Due to this, the farmers have been protesting continuously for one and a half years. They say they have been protesting for 15 months, but the administration ignored their concerns. Farmers claim that the factory's wastewater will badly affect the soil and groundwater, which will

Farmer leaders arrested on Tuesday

In the early hours of Tuesday, the police detained more than 12 protesters, including farmer leader Makham Singh. Following this, a large number of villagers took to the streets. More than 70 people, including MLA Abhimanyu Punia, were mass arrested in the protest, who were later released. The farmers took out processions in Chak 5 RK and adjoining areas against the arrests, which further worsened the situation.

Blockade in the outskirts Heavy police force deployed

To control the situation, the administration blocked the outskirts so that people from other villages could not reach the spot. A large number of police forces have been deployed in the Tibbi SDM office and nearby areas. The decision to shut down internet services was also taken to reduce the same tension. The area remained tense till late in the evening but no major accident took place.

Farmers say that the pollution generated from the factory will not only affect their crops, but will also disturb the environmental balance of the entire region. The administration has appealed to maintain peace and justified the deployment of additional forces. The situation is under control, but the farmers' agitation is not taking the name of stopping.
